

Babson Discusses Marriages

(Exclusive NEWS Feature)

Each generation in countless ways helps determine the fortune of the generation which follows it. Thus the economic course of the fifties was charted largely in the thirties; what we do today will be felt most strongly in the seventies. In view of this fact let us pick out one of the most significant events of twenty years ago and analyze its probable effect during the next few years.

Low Birth Rate of the Thirties

One of the most important characteristics of the thirties was an abnormally low birth rate. Births averaged only 17.4 per thousand of population. This was about 20% below the rate of the twenties. During 1933, the depression low, one-third fewer babies were born than during the high year of the twenties. These 1933 babies are today's 18-19 year old youths. Because of the low birth rate of the thirties, there are one million fewer females in the 14-19 age group today than there were in 1940, despite a 14% increase in total population! This is a remarkable but sorry fact.

Two-thirds of the girls in the above group will marry during the next five years. This implies that in this age group alone, our marriage potential during the next five years has been reduced by nearly 150,000 marriages annually due to this one factor. Think what this means to every businessman reading this column.

Effect On Future Marriages

Another important influence on our marriage rate for the near future is the great number of marriages which took place during the prosperous forties. Especially did couples then marry at a younger age. The all-time high—more than 120 marriages for each 1,000 unmarried females over 15—took place in 1946. This was more than double the 56 marriages per thousand in 1932. Moreover, the average during the decade of the forties (including the war years) was higher than during the boom of the twenties.

Not only did this accelerated rate compensate for the low marriage rate of the thirties, but it also depleted our normal reserve of single girls in the "above 19" brackets. The result of low births (Continued on Page Four)

PROVISIONS OF 1952 WARRANT LISTED

MTA Charges To Raise Taxes $1.40 Per $1000

It has been learned by The News this week that Arlington is being assessed the sum of $101,687.40 by the Metropolitan Transit Authority, the figure being Arlington's share of the M.T.A.'s current deficit of about $3,500,000. Besides this, the town's payment on M.T.A. bond retirement for the year amounts to $13,607.14, making a grand total of $115,294.54 or an increase of about $1.40 on the 1952 tax rate. Last year's payment of $22,486.89 included some $10,216.75 paid on the deficit and $12,270.14 on bond retirement. Figures for 1950 totaled $37,521.74.

"In previous years," stated one official, "Arlington has always had a debit balance and has never had to pay cash out of its pocket. This year our balance will be insufficient, and we will have to hand over the money. Of course we pay it either way," he added.

REGISTRARS OF VOTERS

In support of his action in filing the new town manager bill for inclusion in the annual warrant for discussion in March, Edward J. Sennott this week issued a statement explaining his move. Mr. Sennott is known for his opposition to the town manager bill and felt his move warranted explanation to the voters at large.

Said Mr. Sennott, "Because of the apparent lack of interest on the part of the present town manager committee in seeing that the new bill come up for discussion at town meeting, I feel it is up to me to see that the bill is brought forward and that people have an opportunity to discuss it and make their views known. The committee was given an opportunity to file the new bill but didn't seem to think it important enough to the people."

Mr. Sennott expressed the opinion that several parts of the bill would be found unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, but he feels that the members of town meeting should have not only the right to discuss the bill and to approve or disapprove it, but to amend it if it does not seem within the realm of the law.

In conclusion, Sennott blasted the committee as a false front. He once again reiterated the opinion he has expressed at several meetings: that the T. M. committee ceased to exist as a town body after it had presented the first town manager bill to the Legislature last summer. He says he doubts the power of the committee to present the new bill to the Legislature as a town committee and said, "The committee, if it were at all sincere, would have filed the bill as individuals." Their failure to do so, coupled with their failure to present the bill to the town meeting and to hold any public hearings, raises grave doubts as to their purposes in pushing this bill through."

Republicans Feast, Hear Speakers, Josh Democrats, And Square Dance

Members and their friends who attended the family night gathering of the Arlington Women's Republican Club held in Pleasant St. Congregational Parish Hall last Wednesday evening proclaimed it a highlight in the season's activities.

After a supper served by Mrs. Leonard Wood and her church committee, Mrs. Hiram Ring introduced the legislative guests, State Representative Hollis Gott and State Senator Robert Campbell, who presented their thoughts on the importance of political action on the part of members of the Club and of members of the Republican party. Following this a number of skits enlivened the party, with a Donkey (capital D) and an Elephant (capital E) as the chief characters. The action was all in pantomime, with Mrs. Harold Wood standing at one side pantomiming a radio announcer.

Mrs. Marcus Sorenson, program chairman, introduced the members of a mixed quartette and their leader, Mr. Harvey Davies. The quartette, consisting of Mrs. Louise Scabinio, soprano, Miss Ruth Ranney, contralto; Donald Pearson, tenor; and John Ring, bass; sang several popular selections, finishing their presentation with two operatic numbers—one from Faust and one from Rigoletto.

An hour of lively square dancing topped off the evening, with William Tolman acting as caller, and after that everyone staid home, somewhat breathless but declaring the evening an unusually enjoyable one.

Civil Defense Urges Study of First Aid

The Civil Defense Committee of the Arlington Woman's Club met on the morning of Thursday, January 17th at the home of Mrs. Richard H. Boh, chairman, to hear Daniel J. McFadden, director of civil defense of the town of Arlington. Following a short coffee hour, McFadden explained to the committee the progress in the organization of the town's civil defense, stressing the need for more volunteers in the medical aspect of the work and urging that the volunteers take courses in first aid to prepare themselves for work in first aid stations. Bert Rods, deputy director in charge of personnel, then led a discussion period.

Among committee members and guests who attended were Mrs. J. Milton Washburn, Jr., Mrs. John K. Barry, Jr., Mrs. Charles F. Bunnell, Mrs. Leland F. Howe, Mrs. Stanley R. Kingman, Mrs. Frank P. Swift, Mrs. Elmer E. Barber, Mrs. James Daily, Mrs. Kenneth Spengler, Mrs. Fletcher S. Lawson and Mrs. Willard H. Metserau.

The committee urges anyone who wishes to take a course in first aid to contact the Office of Civil Defense, 33 Ryder Street, Arlington.

Pay Deductions, Town Manager Among Issues

Also Hoover Plan Item

This year's warrant, some 56 articles long, contains not only the usual appropriation items but such hardy perennials as the Town Manager plan, pay increases, and school improvements, and such new items as payroll deductions for union dues, a resolution on the Hoover Plan, and "peeping Toms." A typed draft of the warrant was released this week by the Board of Selectmen. The "peeping Tom" item presumably resulted from one or more incidents of the past year in which local laws proved inadequate.

Other items which will be brought forth for debate and vote include: improvement of the much-discussed Park Circle construction of an addition to Robbins Town Hall, acquisition of property on Mass. Avenue adjoining the Arlington Cooperative Bank, central garaging, central purchasing, Christmas fighting, and investigation of the so-called "Pittsburgh Plan" of real estate taxation.

Also to be discussed are: prohibition of participation by a Town Meeting member in the discussion of any warrant item in which he has a pecuniary interest; provision of a headquarters building for the local detachment of the Marine Corp League, and enlargement of the East Arlington branch library.

Of interest to parents and teachers are Article 44, relating to alterations and improvements on Russell School, Article 49, concerning the East Arlington library, Article 50, which concerns the acquisition of land adjacent to Bishop School for a playground, Article 53, which has to do with child safety and traffic control, and Article 54, which concerns Spy Pond Field.

Although eight articles concern pay increases or reclassifications, some of them are simply restatements of other articles with slight alterations. No figures have been released on possible cost of the increases asked in the warrant.

SCHOLARSHIPS BENEFIT
FOLKS WHO'VE RETIRED

School days can begin when you are 65 at Boston University.

In a move to help older people use their leisure time profitably, B. U. has announced the establishment of free Retirement Scholarships for men and women over 65, who may enroll as auditors during the second semester (January 28-June 2) in the University's evening division courses. The announcement was made by Pres.
Harold C. Case and Prof. John Waters, director of the evening division.

Part-time courses in the University's college of liberal arts, college of business administration, school of public relations and communications, and the college of practical arts and letters will be open without charge to those who wish to follow old interests or develop new ones via the classroom during new leisure time resulting from decreased activities as they pass retirement ages.

Registration for these courses should be done personally with Professor Waters in the evening division office, 685 Commonwealth Avenue, during the registration period ending on Saturday, February 2, at 1:00 p.m. The director of the University's extensive evening division explained that more and more social workers are facing the problem of helping retired persons find new interests as they leave their jobs and have "more time on their hands," than ever before.
Boston University, in opening its classrooms to these people, hopes that they will profit educationally and emotionally as they find new stimulation in study and contact with younger persons and new ideas, he said.

Classes in writing, languages, history of motion pictures, labor relations, current politics, history and government, and management problems are only a few of the fields which will be open for their attention.

A local resident, Brendan A.
Mullin, 2 Orchard Place, recently received a Navy award for 20 years service at the Boston Naval Shipyards.

Among committee members for recent Mistletoe Ball in Copley Plaza Hotel for Kathleen Dell
School students was Miss Joan Creedon of Arlington.

Humorist Rev. John Nicol Mark Lifts Sewing Circle To Poetry

Tuesday was the birthday of our good friend John Nicol Mark, pastor of First Parish Unitarian, and the women of the Social Alliance sewing circle of the church learned about it and had ice cream and cake with him Tuesday noon.

One of the members of the circle, Mrs. Doty of Pleasant Street, wrote a poem for the occasion which reflects very well Mr. Mark's bubbling-over good humor. It hasn't any title yet, but this is how it goes:

Today our dear pastor
Is sixty and five—
Tho' putting on years
He is still much alive.

His eyes, how they twinkle!
His smile is caressing.
His hand clasp sincere;
It gives us a blessing.

He tells a good story
And fills us with mirth,
How the angels must have smiled
At the time of his birth!

He may look from his pulpit
And find many things wrong,
But he still keeps on smiling
And makes life a song.

Many more happy birthdays
We wish him anew—
May his blessings be many
And his trials be few.

The Right Tie — The Right Man

The problem of the Christmas necktie is with us again. But this year somebody is going to do something about it!

"It's just a question of getting the right tie and the right man together," says Mr. Donovan, owner of Bayburn Cleaners. "Fortunately, when it comes to ties one man's nightmare is another man's dreamboat. Our idea is to engineer a gigantic shuffle that will end with everyone satisfied."

During the entire month of February which is National Tie Cleaning Month, Bayburn Cleaners will run a "Tie Exchange Pool." Mr. Donovan invites men everywhere to gather up those Christmas ties that strike the wrong note and take them to Bayburn Cleaners or give them to one of Bayburn's routemen. "For each tie you send or bring," says Mr. Donovan, "you're invited to select another from one of the Tie Exchange Bars at 1 Broadway, Arlington, or 834 Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington, or from any Bayburn routeman. All it costs you is the price of dry cleaning, and you get ties you like. All ties in the Tie Bar have been Sanitone dry cleaned. Meanwhile the ties you turn in will be dry cleaned and added to the Pool."

Well, at last someone's doing something about the Christmas tie problem. Now you can get rid of that purple or yellow job that Aunt Tilly gave you for Christmas.

THROUGH FOREIGN EYES

Last summer, a group of German food chain operators came to this country for a six-week visit under the sponsorship of ECA. The mission had two objectives—first, to acquaint the Germans with American merchandising techniques and facilities as a means of improving the living standards of the German people; second, to demonstrate the benefits of the free competitive enterprise system.

On returning home, the Germans wrote to the American representative of a food chain association who guided them on their country-wide tour. The letters expressed the highest praise for American merchandising. Most of the writers said that they were beginning to adapt American ideas and methods to their own businesses. It is plain that the visitors went back to Germany with a new concept of America and of the economic system on which America was built.

Retailing is not the only example of what free competition in a free society can do for a people. Manufacturing, farming, and all other enterprises are part and parcel of the same system. But retailing gives an unusually clear and concentrated view of what we mean by the American way. The American store, whether it deals in food or other merchandise, is something of a miracle to people who come here from abroad for the first time. The very abundance and variety of goods are unknown in most other countries. And so is the fact that goods are within the means of the masses of the people.

We Americans take our high living standards for granted. But we must never forget the philosophy of freedom which created and maintains them: And we must never be so lazy and complacent and so inclined to let someone else control the destiny of democracy that the most valuable thing in our nation is lost.

Once lost, democracy is more valued but almost impossible to regain.

Three Arlingtonians Recipients Of Boys' Club 15-Year Awards

Three Arlington people have been given Boys' Clubs of America 15-year awards for meritorious service to boys and the Boys' Club. They are Chief of Police Archie F. Bullock, Mrs. Anna Callahan Chester, and Russell P. Wise. The presentations were made at a dinner attended by 175 members of boards of Boys' Clubs, held in Hotel Bradford on Tuesday, and were made by Frederick Cameron Church, an official of the Boys' Club organization.

Chief Bullock has been a member of the board of directors of the Boys' Club of Arlington since it was organized in 1937. He was chairman of the committee which organized the Boys' Club and was its first president, serving from 1937 to 1940. He was a member of the Executive Committee from 1940 to 1945. He was chairman of the house committee in 1945. His service has been especially valuable and noteworthy in the development of the organization and in winning friends for its support, and his interest in the club has resulted in constantly increased opportunities for boys.

Mrs. Anna Callahan Chester has been a member of the board of directors of the Boys' Club of Arlington continuously since it was organized. She was secretary of the committee which planned for the organization of the boys' club. She was secretary from 1939 to

She organized and conducted many fund-raising events in behalf of the club, and her contribution of interest, time, and leadership has been an important factor in the establishment and development of the club.

Russell P. Wise, a member of the organization committee, has served on the board of directors of the Boys' Club since it was established in 1937. He has been chairman of the nominating committee for four terms. Active in community affairs, he was chairman of the Community Fund for three years and president for three years prior to its merger with the Greater Boston Community Fund. He is a member of the town Finance Committee and a member of the board of directors of the Touchdown Club. His community activities and contacts have been very valuable to the Boys' Club, and his attention to the affairs of the Boys' Club has been an important asset in the club's service to boys.

of the thirties, and the high marriages of the forties is that we have today over 2,500,000 fewer single girls under 35 than we had in 1940! I, therefore, expect marriages during the next five years to be at least 20% lower than the recent average of 1.7 million—a loss of about 350,000 marriages each year! Never before in our history have we faced such a dismal prospect.

Importance of Marriage to Business

Everyone is aware of the social importance of the institution of marriage, but its influence on business is often overlooked. When a man and woman marry, a new family unit is created. Separate housing is needed. This largely accounts for today's shortage of houses to rent, and why so many new houses are being built. In building the houses, the contractor must buy plumbing, lumber, steel, glass, cement, gypsum, paper, and electrical equipment. The newly-married couple buys furniture, rugs, and household accessories. There is also additional demand for electricity, water and gas, and, usually, a bank mortgage! As babies are born, demand is created for milk, baby foods and clothing, baby carriages, toys and a variety of other items. Thus, marriage is most helpful to business and is an important reason for today's prosperity.

Consider then the far-reaching effect of a twenty per cent decline in marriages for the next five years. This can make business slump and keep it down. We are too complacent with our present high production and high consumption standards. We pay too little attention to the birth rates. I do not believe a repetition of the severe depression of the thirties is necessary. There are things we can do to counteract the coming big slump in marriages. I might add that the new draft ruling regarding childless couples could also be a helpful factor.

Holy Name Members And Friends Enjoy Outstanding Sports Night

Over five hundred members and friends of St. Agnes Holy Name Society enjoyed its Annual Sports Night held in St. Agnes Auditorium on Friday, January 25. There were short addresses by the Reverend Oscar O'Gorman, pastor of St. Agnes Church, Reverend Edward Kenealy, spiritual director of the Society, and President Warren Ryan. Father O'Gorman spoke on the aims and ideals of the Society, and his message was a direct appeal to the men of the parish to lend their support to all activities of the Society and parish.

The sports program got under way with Joe Coleman as master of ceremonies, and everyone enjoyed the banter between Joe and his fellow baseball luminaries, Johnny Pesky, Walt Dropo, Eddie Pellagrini, and Mickey Harris. Mickey announced a program that will interest every boy in the state when its planning is finally completed. His baseball clinic idea has been well received in New York.

Mike Hoavack's comments while the B. C. H. C. movies were being shown made a big hit with the crowd. Helping Mike were Jack Doran, Henry O'Brien and Bill Emmons, local boys who were on the team that beat Holy Cross. The evening closed with the showing of 1951 World Series moving pictures.

Speed Zoning Passes

Representative Henry E. Keenan of Arlington has been informed by the Department of Public Works that his request for speed zoning of Summer Street - Boulevard, known as Route 2 in Arlington, has been approved.

Mother-Daughter Night, First Baptist Church, Draws 150 Persons

About one hundred and fifty ladies enjoyed an evening of entertainment at the Mother-Daughter Night of the Women's Fellowship at First Baptist Church last week. It was worthy of note that in several instances members and their guests represented three generations of a family.

The president, Mrs. Errol Jacobsen introduced Mrs. William A. Platine who gave a welcome to the mothers, and response was made first by her daughter Mrs. Connie P. Maartmann-Moe and then by her granddaughter little Estelle Maartmann-Moe.

Mrs. William E. Bailey led the devotional period and paid tribute to the influence that Christian grandmothers and mothers have on succeeding generations. She passed on the challenge to the daughters who will be tomorrow's mothers and grandmothers.

Imitations in pantomime were given for the gathering by Robert Chambers for the edification of those present, after which Mrs. Dorothy Dever pleased the ladies with her comedy program, "Dorothy And Her Hats."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Aileen Mowat, Mrs. Dorothy Place, and their committee.

MTA Extension Bill Still "In The Works"

On Wednesday last, the Committee of Metropolitan Affairs again voted favorably on the proposed bill authorizing the M.T.A. to prepare plans and estimates for the extension of the Harvard Square subway in a westerly direction from its present terminus to the West Cambridge-Arlington-Belmont line.

The proposed legislation, filed by Representative Henry Keenan, has been acted upon favorably three times by the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs. It has also been favored by the House of Representatives for three successive years. However, it has been referred back to study after reaching the Senate. Both Legislative branches last year voted to set aside forty-odd acres of land in the area of the proposed terminus, and it is hoped by Mr. Keenan that this year authority will be granted to the M.T.A. to go forward with the extension.

The Recess Commission of Metropolitan Affairs will visit communities this week to report on matters referred to them in the last session of the Legislature, including the possibility of building an overpass or underpass at the junction of Alewife Brook Parkway and Massachusetts Avenue and at Broadway at the Arlington-Somerville line.

Congregationalists Choose New Officers

Over 160 members of the Pleasant Street Congregational Church and parish gathered in the vestry on Friday evening, January 18, for a covered dish supper arranged by Mrs. Leonard D. Wood and Mrs. G. Edward Wilkins, with outgoing officers and committee members seated at the head table.

At 8:00 p. m. the annual meeting of the church was called to order by moderator John O. Parker. Routine reports were given, appropriations for the ensuing year were voted, and the following officers and members of committees were elected: deacons, Bernard G. Teel and James W. Daily; deaconesses, Mrs. Clifford B. Cronan, Miss Dorothy Greene, Mrs. Ralph B. Lancaster, Mrs. Earl Lewis and Mrs. Walter F. THE SEVEN DWARFS serenade Snow White in this scene from Walt Disney's famous motion picture which inspired The First National Stores' sponsored contest to find New England's Snow White and Prince Charming. New England's most popular teacher will also be selected by popular vote, to accompany the winning couple on a free tour of England.

Snow White Contest For Youth Sponsored By First National

A local teacher may well be the winner of a free tour of England if ballots received in First National Stores' Snow White and Prince Charming contest are an indication. One of the features of the contest is that the teacher voted the most popular by ballot will accompany the two winners, acting as a chaperone on their tour.

Tremendous interest is being evidenced in this vote for the most popular teacher, as anyone—adult or child—may participate in the voting. Ballots are obtainable at all First National Stores. It is not necessary to enter the contest to cast a vote for the most popular teacher. The teacher selected will be the teacher receiving the greatest number of votes in proportion to the population of the town or city in which he or she teaches. Thus a teacher in the smallest town has an equal opportunity to win.

In the meantime, entries are pouring in from young people, eighteen years old or under, who are participating in the voice contest to win the designation of Snow White or Prince Charming. The boy and girl selected from this competition will win a free all-expense visit to England this coming summer. Runners-up will be awarded one of 18 brand new 1952 Admiral 21" television sets.

Auditions of applicants have already begun, but it is not too late to enter the contest, as applications will be received until February 15th. All applicants will receive an audition and winners will be announced at the grand finals, to be held at Hotel Somerset on Saturday evening, February 23rd.

Deena Taylor, famous American composer and critic, will be the sole judge at the finals. Applicants may sing any song of their choice, and the selections do not have to be from the score of Walt Disney's production of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Sachem Council Plans Meeting

The 30th annual Scouters meeting, to be held at Belmont High School on Saturday February 9th with a dinner at 6:30 p.m., will highlight the 42nd observance of National Scout Week February 6-12.

There will be exhibit on Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting, Exploring, and Camp Sachem and songs by Levi Burnell and company. While Hicks the caterer will be there to fill the cavity of the inner man, genial council president Dr. Henry Swaabe will fill the cavity of the mind with words of wisdom.

A short pageant of goals and aims for 52 in Sachem will be performed and W. Rod Speirs, scout executive of Old Colony Council, will give the main address of the evening on "Traveling In Scouting Countries." Mr. Speirs has taken an active part in scouting in India, England, Australia, and Japan. He has attended all international jamborees and his latest assignment in Japan—setting up democratic youth activities—is indeed an interesting one.

Sachem's new scout executive, Howard D. Butler, will be introduced, and it is rumored that Arlington is to be signally honored this year. Reservations must be made and Harold Anderson suggests, "Better telephone me now while there is still a 'camp stool' left."

81st N. E. Floral Show Will Open March 9th

Since the early '70's, generations of New Englanders have looked forward with eagerness and enthusiasm to the annual New England Spring Flower Show, sponsored by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society. This year's 81st show, with "Springtime in New England" as its theme, opens in Mechanics Building, Boston on Sunday March 9th and continues through Saturday March 15th. The thousands of flowers and plants will be in prime condition for the opening day.

Rolling sand dunes, rocky hill-tops, flowering meadows and woodland vistas, with their characteristic spring blossoms, will be part of the delightfully-formed naturalistic panorama. A rustic wooden bridge spanning a refreshing mountain stream will enable visitors to enjoy a flowering hillside at close range.

A colorful series of small, intimate gardens, showing the skillful treatment of unusual plant material, has been planned by the Women's Exhibitions Committee. The flower arrangement section, sponsored by the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts will interpret the theme of the Show.

Through the cooperation of the Massachusetts Department of Conservation, the University of Massachusetts, and the high schools offering courses in horticulture, a number of educational exhibits are being planned. The Show committee, under direction of Arno H. Nehring, has spared neither energy nor effort in their endeavor to make this year's Show tell the sparkling story of "Springtime in New England."

Historical Society Hears Of Old Taverns

The regular monthly meeting of the Arlington Historical Society was held on Tuesday evening, January 29, with Wathen Henderson presiding. Mrs. Elmer Barber presented an interesting and informative paper on "Inns and Taverns of Old Boston." Appropriate to the subject of the evening, mulled cider was served.

The guest speaker for the next meeting will be Dr. A. Warren Stearns, whose subject will be "Architecture in Old New England."

Family Income.—According to the U. S. census bureau, 4.7 million families had incomes of less than $1,000 in 1949.

Four Local Men Get Diplomas For Bank Course

Four residents of Arlington will be honored on Friday, February 8 during the 42nd annual banquet of the Boston Chapter of the American Institute of Banking. Loring E. Troit, Robert J. Nichols, Louis S. Martone, and Anthony J. Gatto are among the forty members of the chapter who completed the requirements for educational certificates of the institute during 1951.

Troit, who lives at 100 Paul Revere Road, is assistant manager of the analysis department of the National Shawmut Bank and has been with the bank since February, 1948. Nichols is a teller at the South Station office of Shawmut and has been with the bank for three years. He lives at 193 Scituate Street.

Louis Martone lives at 15 West Street and is with the Harvard Trust Company of Cambridge, while Gatto, a commercial teller at Harvard Trust, makes his home at 32 Everett Street. He has had three years of service with his bank.

Stephen H. Dimmock, president of Boston chapter and auditor of the New England Trust Company, will preside, and the featured speaker will be Alto P. Barr, national president of the Institute. The presidents of 22 eastern Massachusetts banks will be seated at the head table.

Tenure Is Extended To Town Treasurers, Pending Voters' OK

If the voters of Arlington agree with the state legislature, J. Wilbert Anderson, local treasurer and collector, will be given life tenure in office. The legislature so voted last week.

The idea of life tenure, according to the Mass. State Treasurers and Tax Collectors Association, is to take purely administrative positions out of politics. That this is advisable, it says, can be readily seen by the recent tax scandals.

Tenure of office already is available to Town Clerks who have served for a required number of years, as provided in a general act passed some time ago by the legislature. Efforts now are being made to extend the plan to other officers. Incompetent persons are always open to removal, stated a Town Hall official, and in addition, tenure is granted only after a satisfactory period of performance for a number of years.

Meet The Alari's

As most of the eaters around Town Hall or the library know, Martin's restaurant has undergone a change of ownership. The new owner is Hugo Alari of Belmont, a man with 40 years of experience in cooking. He will be assisted by Mrs. Alari.

The Alari's have three children.

one of them living in Arlington. Their daughter is Mrs. Frances Nardine of Plymouth Road, Arlington. One son is married and lives in Somerville; the other is with a tank battalion in Germany.

Miss Hayes Recuperating

Mary Hayes of Wellington Street and the Assessors Office is healing nicely, thank you, Miss Hayes, who broke her wrist just before Christmas and had to have it in a plaster cast for about four weeks, once again has full use of her arm. On the day her arm was broken, she said, Synmes Hospital had eight cases of broken bones. Miss Hayes was due to an icy sidewalk.

Republican Town Committee

The Republican Town Committee met in the Old Mill Friday, with Sen. Robert Campbell and Rep. Hollis M. Gott as speakers. Mr. Gott presided.

Mr. Gott described conditions at the State House and told of the need for a change of administration. Senator Campbell, saying that he felt he had learned much during his first term, said he thought he could contribute to the good of the party by serving another term.

Boston Edison Gives Balance

Boston Edison Company had an income balance of $7,791,597, or $3.16 a share in 1951, as compared with $7,726,652, or $3.13 a share in 1950. President Thomas G. Dignan reported Monday.

"Gross revenues for 1951 were $74,446,283, the highest in Company history," Mr. Dignan said, adding, "Taxes in 1951 were at the all-time high of $17,190,387, an increase of $2,485,806 over 1950, largely the result of higher federal income taxes. Taxes in 1951 were equivalent to $6.96 a share."
